

An aerial photograph showing a large-scale industrial demolition project. In the foreground, a tall, cylindrical concrete structure is being demolished, with a massive plume of dust and debris rising from its base. To the left, several large industrial buildings with red roofs are partially destroyed, surrounded by rubble. In the background, a town with residential houses and a railway line are visible, set against a backdrop of green hills and mountains under a cloudy sky. A solid orange horizontal bar is located at the top left of the image.

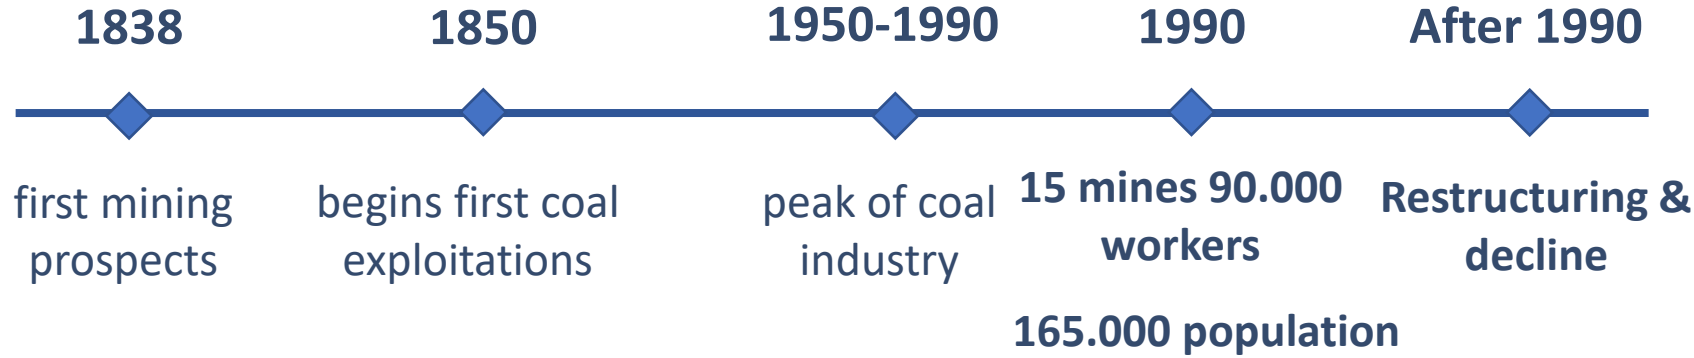

Regions and structural change in the light of just transition and decarbonisation strategies
