* Share of active population with tertiary education at the latest available year of 2010.

The collected data from the national institutions all over the countries covered by the project are quite disparate in terms of nature, definition, quality and time coverage. Because of this variability, data are harmonised against the national values provided by World Bank & UNESCO databases. A cross-multiplication is used to apply the observed ratio at the regional scale. These are computed at the SNUTS 3 or 2 level whenever possible, at the national level otherwise.
